NGO Working Group on Asia: Submission to UPR

1. The NGO Working Group on Asia¹ comprises thirteen member organizations with strong ties to grassroots groups in Asia and a focus on addressing human rights violations in the Asian region. As a Working Group, we envision an Asian region in which human rights are enjoyed by all, free from human rights violations. The mission of the Working Group is to promote human rights in Asia through our collective areas of work at the United Nations and with the NGO community in New York.
2. The Working Group believes that a credible and effective Human Rights Council with a credible and effective Universal Periodic Review (UPR) mechanism is vital to the protection, promotion and realization of human rights in Asia. The UPR mechanism starts its first reviews in April 2008 and; as a stakeholder in that process, we make this Submission, seeking to assist the UPR Working Group in being effective by developing good practices and procedures.
3. This Submission focuses on the Voluntary Pledges and Commitments that have been made, at the time of election, by the Human Rights Council member under review. According to Human Rights Council Resolution 5/1 (para.1) such pledges are to be one of four elements on which the review will be based. With respect to such pledges and commitments this Submission:
 - poses queries for the UPR to raise, in response to which the Council member under review will have an opportunity to provide information as to “best practices”;
 - suggests, where possible, indicators for assessing progress towards fulfilling pledges and meeting commitments; and
 - suggests, where appropriate, possible voluntary commitments and pledges (as provided for by Human Rights Council Resolution 5/1 (para.27.e) that the Council member under review may make as part of the outcome of the review.
4. We do so out of the desire to make the Outcome of the Universal Periodic Review a truly “cooperative mechanism”, as envisaged in Human Rights Council Resolution 5/1 (para.33).
5. The NGO Working Group on Asia was convened as an initial response to the “collective cry for justice” for the victims of extra-judicial executions and forced disappearances in the Philippines that was made in Let the Stones Cry Out: an Ecumenical Report on Human Rights in the Philippines and a Call to Action. This Submission, as a part of that “collective cry for justice”, focuses on the voluntary pledges made by the government of the Philippines in 2006 and in 2007 when it successfully sought election/re-election to membership in the Council. The pledges are listed below, followed by questions appropriate for the UPR to consider.

24. Resolution 5/1 of the Human Rights Council (para.1) stresses that the UPR should fully integrate a gender perspective. Since the Pledges and Commitments of the Philippines do not conspicuously integrate a gender perspective, we strongly recommend that the information submitted by the Philippines to the UPR fully disaggregate gender dimensions, as appropriate.

25. This submission is made in the spirit of ensuring that the outcome of the UPR of the Philippines will be cooperative. For the outcome to be both cooperative and effective, two elements from the human rights paradigm need to be reiterated;

- Obligations of both conduct and of result must be monitored and assessed.
- “A promise made with no intention to perform” is how “fraud” is defined in Common Law.

26. All UPRs, including that of the Philippines must aspire to have successfully addressed both of the above elements.
