The National Center for Lesbian Rights (NCLR) has been advancing the civil and human rights of lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender (LGBT) people and their families across the United States of America through litigation, legislation, policy, and public education since it was founded in 1977. NCLR is a non-profit, public interest law firm that litigates precedent-setting cases at the trial and appellate court levels, advocates for equitable public policies affecting the LGBT community, provides free legal assistance to LGBT people and their legal advocates, and conducts community education on LGBT issues. NCLR serves more than 5,000 LGBT people and their families throughout the United States each year, including LGBT parents, seniors, immigrants, athletes, and youth. NCLR's legal, policy, and legislative victories set important precedents that improve the lives of all LGBT people and their families across the country. We also seek to empower individuals and communities to assert their own legal rights and to increase public support for LGBT equality through community and public education.
