Since 1976, CRIAOW-ICREF has been researching and documenting the economic and social situation of women in Canada. Using intersectional frameworks, we have developed and undertaken a variety of important, ground-breaking research that is women centred. CRIAOW-ICREF is a not for profit member based organization.

We focus exclusively on nurturing feminist research and making it accessible for public advocacy and education.

All CRIAOW activities flow from an overarching goal to provide tools and information to help organizations take action to advance social justice and equality for all women.
