Statement on Persecution

On December 8 of 2012, I was captured and beaten by the Chinese police officers while preaching the gospel to some villagers in Qiangeta Village, Fengqiu County, Xinxiang City, Henan Province, then taken to Fengqiu Public Security Bureau later. Upon arrival there, the police handcuffed me to a tiger chair for an interrogation, and repeatedly hit me in the face and the head. My wrists were handcuffed so tightly that they began to bleed, and the bones were exposed, which brought me unbearable pain.

On December 9 at about 1:00 AM, the police decided to keep me in custody for 10 days and fine me 500 RMB on the charge of "believing in Almighty God and preaching the gospel." then I was asked to sign my Notice on Detention and transferred to a local detention center.

On December 19 of 2012, upon completion of serving my term in custody, I was taken to the Criminal Section of Fengqiu County Public Security Bureau for the formalities of registration and filing, then directly escorted to Fengqiu Detention Center and detained there. I asked the police officers why but got scolding and beating instead of an answer.

During my detention, the guards instigated other prisoners to abuse me and beat me, and even forced me to clean the toilets by hand. In the short span of half a year in there, my weight was reduced by 20-odd kilos. For many times, I fell into faints due to starving.

In June 2013, the People's Court of Fengqiu County in the Henan city of Xinxiang openly heard and verified my case and confirmed the fact that I had been a believer of the Church of Almighty God and active in preaching the gospel on the behalf of it. Then I was sentenced to three years of imprisonment on the charge of "organizing and utilizing evil religious organizations to undermine the implementation of the laws."

On July 20 of 2013, I was transferred to Henan No. 1 Prison, where I had to work nearly 20 hours per day. I was told that I could only use the toilet twice a day within the scheduled time, and the police would punish me physically once I failed to do a good job or delayed my work a little.

The guards often forced me to abandon my faith, ordering me to write confession, statement of repentance and renouncement, but I refused all their requests. Meanwhile, guards were arranged to closely watch me 24 hours. Whenever I ate, slept or used the toilet, I was not allowed to talk to any believer or pray to God, and was abused and beaten from time to time. Brother Ban, another believer detained in the same detention center, was put into a special cell for severe control. When I met him again after he got out of there, his arms seemed to be disabled, his hair turned grey. He trundled forward, lowering his head and moving his legs with difficulty, looking like an old man in his fifties or sixties.

After one year in jail, due to the overloaded labor and the severe condition of board and lodging, I suffered from periarthritis, cervical spondylosis, hemorrhoids and lumbar disc herniation. To ease my pain, I asked for some painkillers, but the guards just turned me down.

On December 8 of 2015, I was released upon completion of my jail term and transferred to Jiaozuo Justice Bureau where the police asked Jiaozuo City Public Security Bureau to deploy personnel to watch me and control me later on. They asked me to use a telephone registered with my real name,
